

Curriculum Objection Form (2002-06)

Rehoboth Christian School

Rehoboth Christian School is a parental school. It is the desire of the Board, the Education Committee, and the staff to accommodate parental concerns and views as much as possible. However, there needs to be a balance between the best interests of one particular family, and that of the school community as a whole. Parents who want to exclude their child from a particular unit or book being taught in a course can fill out this Curriculum Objection Form.
